STRANGE FANATICISM.

Miss Weeks is the daughter of parents who lived here up to a few years. They were Quaker people, and in business. Mr. Weeks was a photographer, occupying the corner of Oak and Summit streets. In religious views they were of the free-thinker sort, and the little circle in which they moved were Spiritualists. Relatives by marriage were the families of J. Secor and the Ben-Precessors.

Another was a morrow. Miss Hotchkiss, who was a fanatic in that faith, and believed in human perfection, and a life without sia, as expounded, it is said, by Bowen. Miss Weeks's letters to Toledo talked strangely of the same stuff. Some of e Brooklyn people were relatives of the etchams and the Bennetts, which accounts for Mantia's going there. Finally, the Tole-do relatives were astonished by letters from Miss Hotchkiss, speaking of Mantia as the "BLESSED MOTHER," WHO SHOULD BEAR

THE "BLESSED CHILD," and the like, indicating an astonishing state of affairs. They at once sent for her to come home, and on her arrival found her crazy upon the notion indicated. Inquiry proved that Bowen was at the bottom of all the mischief; that he had been operating with a era of good will, free love, Spiritualism, etc. the leading idea of which was that he should be the head of a new spirituality, and that the "Blessed Mother" should bear by him

A SECOND CHRIST. The friends at once secured admission for her to the Northwestern insane asylum here. She did not rapidly mend, and the Columbu asylum being opened about that time, Mr. Secor, who was a director in the institution, had her transferred there. Miss Jones, in spite of her parents-who, however, did not seem to be fully aware of the real situationfollowed the bend of her ideas received from Miss Weeks. Her father observed she grasped eagerly after reading matter of the kind, and one time discovered she was closely reading Plato's works. She also read almost constantly of highly romantic and sensational wels, for which her thirst seemed insatiate.

HER MIND GAVE WAY. She was at once sent to the Columbus asylum, and so got again into the closest intimacy with the Weeks woman. This seems to have been an oversight on the part of the Toledo friends, or else they relied on the management of the institution to know what was best for all the patients. Not long after a letter of Ada's (to her father) was received, so filled with her theme and so extravagant in her expressions toward Miss Weeks, whom she called "blessed mother," atc., that the doctor became alarmed and went to see about it, however delaying a day or two until the meeting of the State medical association, of which he is a member. In the meantime, Miss Weeks, whose theory was that she was outned in persecution against the holy head f the new church, conceived a cunning and uccessful PLAN FOR ESCAPE, the inmates contributing the money to the amount of fifty dollars, and Miss Jones heading the list with a good sum. The escape does not seem creditable to the efficiency of the institution at the time. The Toledo relatives made diligent search for the escaped 'virgip." Detectives traced her to Jersey City, and heard of her being seen with Bowen, but here lost the trace. Finally, Dr. Jones intercepted a letter to his daughter, earing the postmark, "Ansonia, Connecticut," and signed by Miss Hotchkiss. It bore the "joyous tidings" that the "Blessed Mother of the Blessed Child was safe in Ansued by the judges. The race was awarded sonia." "Blessed Child" is supposed to mean to Sallie Polk. The decision in regard to the child expected, as there is no information the child expected, as there is no information bets and pools is held over, and will be given | that any child has yet been born as a result which has now covered a considerable pe riod. All the information touching Bowen puts him in the light of a designing liber-tine among the girls of the Brooklyn circle. He has a wife, who seems to know too much ied three separate times to come to the post, of him to believe in his religious sincerity, and that President Franklin adhered strictly as she became very jealous of him at the cape, Mrs. Bowen made a disturbance and began efforts for a divorce. An exciting scene occurred in the United States court-room, recently, between District-Attorney Mayer and Hon, L. P. Walker. It grew out of the examination of a witness in an election fraudense. Solicitor Mayer remarked that General number of girls, among them Miss Weeks, Walker had intimated something he should and had brought them to believe in a new not have said by a question put to the witnot have said by a question put to the wit-ness. This General Walker emphatically denied, and upon Mr. Mayer repeating the assertion General Walker told him he lied, whereupon Mr. Mayer serzed a glass near at hand, but was prevented from throwing it by friends. General Walker burled an inkstand at Mr. Mayer, striking him but doing him only slight injury. Judge Bruce promptly adjourned court, and upon reassembling the next morning used some very emphatic and pointed language in regard to the occur-rence, and notified the parties concerned that they would hear from him again on the subject before the adjournment of court."

Donaldson has been in Xenia for some time, rehearsing the oratorio of Belshazzar. The young girl whose ruin he effected was a singer in his chorus. On Wednesday evening last he overtook her as she was walking in the outskirts of the city and persuaded her to continue her walk with him into a piece of woods. Three young boys who were near saw them, but fearing trouble who were near saw them, but fearing trouble said nothing until Friday evening when they told the girl's brother. Last night she was questioned about it and made a confession to her mother that Donaldson had seduced her. The news soon leaked out and created great excitement instown, Donaldson denied it, and offered hity dollars to any one who would bring him face to face with his accaser. An appointment was made, but the singer did not meet it. He had takes flight. He was followed by the girl's brother and officers, and after twenty-four hours pursuit by rail and across the country, he was found at Washington, the capital of Fayette county. He confessed his crime, and said he would make every reparation in his power if the Xenia people would not lynch him. He was taken back to Xenia to night. Feeling there is very strong against him.
